Analogies test your understanding of the relationship between pairs of words. Example:

HOT : COLD ::

- (a) hungry : tired      (c) soaked : wet
(b) light : heavy      (d) blue : yellow

When we read the analogy we say, "Hot is to cold as _____ is to _____."

The relationship between HOT and COLD is that they are opposites, or antonyms. So to find the answer, look for a pair of words that are also opposites. Light and heavy are opposites. None of the other pairs of words have this relationship. So the correct answer is (b).

Select the pair of words that most nearly expresses the relationship of the pair of words in capital letters. Circle the letter in front of the pair you choose.

HINT! Keep antonyms in mind as you do this exercise.

1. HUMID : ARID ::

(a) square : round	(c) thirsty : hungry
(b) sloppy : careless	(d) wet : dry

2. SPLENDID : SQUALID ::

(a) attractive : ugly	(c) lofty : towering
(b) loud : noisy	(d) lonely : alone

3. POVERTY : WEALTH ::

(b) colorful : bright	(d) abundant : scarce

6. VACATE : OCCUPY ::

Read the passage. Then answer the questions that follow it.

Land of Contrasts

Thailand is a country about the size of France, with a population of over sixty million people. About forty percent of the people live in rural areas, away from Bangkok, the nation's capital and its only major city. Tourism is the country's number one industry. Every year visitors from all over the world vacation in Bangkok, but most of them leave without seeing the rest of this fascinating country. This is a pity, for Thailand is a land of startling contrasts. It is made up of four distinct regions.

The northwestern region is the least accessible part of the country because of its mountainous terrain and many forests. Tigers, leopards, bears, and monkeys inhabit the more remote areas. Deer and buffalo graze on the grasslands that cover the lower slopes of the mountains. One of the world's great wildlife sanctuaries is located near Chiang Mai. This is the country's third largest city. Yet, its population is only one-fiftieth that of Bangkok's. The two most important industries in this part of the country are lumber and tin mining.

The northeastern part of Thailand is vastly different from the northwestern part. It is by far the poorest region. Few crops grow there because of its arid climate and barren soil. Poor highways and a lack of railroads add to its problems. This region has little industry, and most of its people live in poverty. Many have left the land hoping to find work in Bangkok.

The most prosperous region is the great central plain. There the soil is fertile and crops grow in abundance. Farmers produce enough rice to feed the people of Thailand and still have some for export. Other crops include cotton, sugar, corn, tobacco, and peanuts. Bangkok is located on the southern edge of the central plain. It is a modern city with huge luxury hotels that have sprung up in recent years to accommodate the ever-increasing hordes of tourists. Many of them visit Bangkok to explore its rich cultural history. Among the city's attractions are over four hundred Buddhist temples and numerous universities. There is also a huge Grand Palace where the rulers of Thailand once lived in luxury. Not all of the capital is splendid, though. Tourists seldom stray from the downtown area, with its many expensive shops and fine restaurants. But not far off are the more squalid parts of Bangkok. There the city's poor live in overcrowded conditions.

The fourth distinctive region is the southern part of the country. It reaches to the Malaysian peninsula, within five hundred miles of the equator. This part of Thailand is mostly tropical rainforest, with a humid climate and over two hundred inches of rain a year. It has an incredible variety of plant and animal life. For example, over five hundred different kinds of butterflies live there! It also has some of the finest beaches in the world to lure those tourists seeking a change from the hectic city life of Bangkok.

Visitors who spend a week or two in Bangkok may go home and tell their families and friends that they have seen Thailand. However, only those who have explored all four regions of the country can truly say, "I have seen Thailand."

FUN & FASCINATING FACTS

- Horde comes from the Polish word horda, which in turn came from the Turkish word ordu, meaning “military camp” or “army.” Centuries ago, the Turkish Mongols swept across Asia and eastern Europe in vast numbers, conquering the people in those areas. The word horde came to mean “a large number [of people] on the move.” Don’t confuse this word with hoard, which is a noun and means “a hidden supply or store.” Hoard is also a verb that means “to save and store away in a greedy or secret manner.” Horde and hoard are homophones; they sound the same but have different meanings and spellings.
- The antonym of rural is urban. New York City is a large urban center; upper New York State, with its many farms and small towns, is mostly rural.
- In Latin sanctus means “holy,” and the original meaning of sanctuary is “a holy place.” Churches, temples, and mosques were considered sanctuaries; people wanted by the law could find protection in such places because officers of the law would not enter them. The word sanctuary came to mean “protection offered by being in a holy place,” and its meaning was later extended to include any place that offers safety. A bird sanctuary, for example, offers protection to the birds that nest there.
