

SEARCH and SORT

Discovering Patterns in Sounds,
Letters, and Words

Katherine Scrapper
Recommended for grades K-4

Search and Sort is a volume of reproducible hands-on word sorting activities. These blackline masters can be used to teach word study techniques proven to reinforce reading, spelling, and critical thinking skills.

The following adjective word sort is designed to develop grammar skills in intermediate readers. Try this sort with an individual student, a small group, or the entire class. Search and Sort can be easily incorporated into almost any curriculum.

Recommended Companion Material

EPS offers a wide range of products and programs that complement the word study activities in Search and Sort. We recommend the following series to help intermediate readers improve their reading of more complex texts, develop effective writing habits, and improve their scores on language exams.

Ridgewood Grammar: The Language Connection

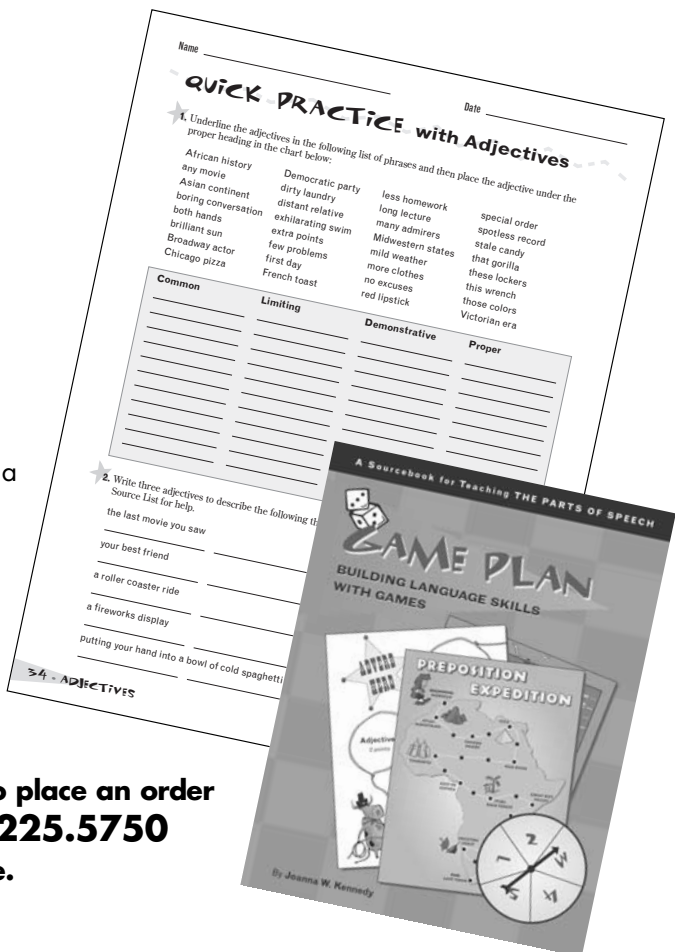

Recommended for grades 3–5

Ridgewood Grammar: The Language Connection introduces students to grammar concepts for clear, effective writing. Each lesson gives definitions and samples followed by exercises in determining patterns, completing charts, and analyzing errors. Writing exercises allow students to practice new language concepts in context.

Game Plan: Building Language Skills with Games

Recommended for grades 4–8

Game Plan: Building Language Skills with Games is a new series of reproducible sourcebooks for teaching the important elements of English grammar in meaningful ways. Each volume provides mini lessons, student worksheets, skills-based games, and motivation typically absent from more traditional exercises.
