

Stepping Up In Reading

Building Accuracy and Fluency

Phyllis Bertin and Eileen Perlman

Stepping Up In Reading Book 2, the third book in the PAF series, introduces beginning and struggling readers to initial blends, long vowels, open syllables, suffixes, and sight words. This multisensory, Orton-Gillingham based program provides children with the building blocks they need to become successful readers.

The following sample lesson introduces the digraph wh- and is designed to reinforce beginning reading, writing, and spelling skills. Use the attached lesson plan in the PAF format with an individual student, a small group, or the entire class. Preventing Academic Failure can be incorporated into almost any reading curriculum.

Recommended Companion Material

EPS offers a wide range of products that complement the reading activities in Stepping Up In Reading. We recommend the following series to help beginning or struggling readers develop basic reading and writing skills.

Stepping Up in Reading 1: Building Accuracy and Fluency

Ungraded

Use the Stepping Up In Reading books to develop accuracy and fluency so that children understand what they read. Stepping Up In Reading Book 1 is the first in the series of three Stepping Up books. Use this book independently or as part of the larger PAF program.

PAF Workbook for Cursive

Ungraded

The PAF Handwriting Program guarantees that children will learn to write easily and legibly. Children who write well do better in school. The materials can be used with or without the PAF reading program. This affordable penmanship program can be used in any classroom.
